“Empowering women for climate justice in 2030 agenda”

*Parallel event at CSW 64
Armenian Center: Ball room 630 2nd Avenue NY
March 9th, 2020 – 12:30 Pm*

The CSW64 priorities are linked to Beijing declaration review. This review will include an assessment of current challenges that affect the implementation of the Platform for Action and the achievement of gender equality and the empowerment of women and its contribution towards the full realization of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

In this context, Women Health Climate and its partners – Unicef, the Jean-Jaurès Foundation, the Foundation for European progressive studies (FEPS) – would like to focus on the major impact of climate change for women and girls and the necessary climate justice to set up to empower women and girls regarding the 2030 agenda.

For several years, Women Health Climat is releasing a white paper to demonstrate the higher impact of climate change on women and girls and the solutions found by the civil societies, the companies including start up, NGOs, financial funding's. As climate change impacts are getting stronger, Empowering women and girls is key.

The panelists will discuss those issues focusing on several aspects: climate change and climate justice, professional equality, sexual and reproductive rights, innovation tools to listen to the youth.
